Place In This World

Michael W. Smith

Searching every day to find my
Place in this world
Place in this world
I can't seem to remember what I've lost on the way
Fighting everyday to find my
Place in this world
Place in this world
I am starting to lose controlShow me the way to the light
Everything is turning black
Reminisce the days when I felt the joy and it's
One last chance to get myself out
Only I can't believe what it is to come.
Feel the pain
I have kept to myself
Fly again
For one last time
Can't go back
To what I was
It's time for me to
Change, to change,
What I've become!Trying to seek the meaning for my
Place in this world
Place in this world
I can't seem to forget what I've found on the way
Hoping to find my existence
Place in this world
Place in this world
I'm at the brink of losing hope
I've had it up to here
Everything is turning white
Loosing vision of what I thought I saw before
All the chaos that surrounds me
Holding on with my life to turn this around.Feel the pain
I have kept to myself
Fly again
For one last time
Can't go back
To what I was
It's time for me to
Change, to change,
What I've become!Place in this world

Place in this world
Place in this world
Place in this world
Place in this world
Place in this worldShow me the way to the light
Everything is turning black
Reminisce the days when I felt the joy and it's
One last chance to get myself out
Only I can't believe what it is to come.Feel the pain
I have kept to myself
Fly again
For one last time!!!Feel the pain
I have kept to myself
Fly again
For one last time
Can't go back
To what I was
It's time for me to
Change, to change,
What I've become!
