Ain't No God In Mexico

Waylon Jennings

(Billy Joe Shaver)Down the road a ways I've heard said
A new day's coming on
Where the women folks are friendly
And the law leaves you alone.I'll believe it when I see it
And I haven't seen it yet
Don't mind me just keep on talking
I'm just looking for my hat.There ain't no God in Mexico
Ain't no way to understand
How that border crossing feeling
Makes a fool out of a man.
If I'd never felt the sunshine
Hell, I would not curse the rain
If my feet could fit a railroad track
I guess I'd been a train.--- Instrumental ---Me and Louise Higgins Botham
Used to chase across the yard
Back in 1947 that's when
More than times were hard.Well, pity me I didn't find
The line in time like a fool
In front of God and everybody
I politely blew my cool.Ain't no God in Mexico
Ain't no comfort in the kin
When you're down in Madamoris
Gettin' busted by the man.
If I'd never felt the sunshine
Hell, I would not curse the rain
If I hadn't been railroaded
Well I guess I'd been a train...--- Instrumewntal to fade ---
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by http://www.1songlyrics.com/