God's Love to Deliver

Jim James

I have a dream, oh Dr. king will I know what you mean
We were all equal in your eyes and ears
God speaking through you direct connectionWe carry on, then becomes now, our hearts carry on Living the words and your message lives on Love has no equal
Direct connection, straight to the source
Fate had to deliver a feeling so pure
Negating all evil we have found the lord
And our hearts rebornYou were the eagle, your claws in my back
You were so eager to get through the night
No real connection
Constantly my head on the phone
Running in circles to find the real love
The love that find me
When I least expect it
You are the man
And I lay beside you in peace
Our love has no equal
In your eyes and mine
Gods love to deliver
Gods love to deliver
