Southbound Pachyderm

Primus

Quite a surprise
What an ingenious device
Boredom encompasses my time
I don't know what I should doIndulging a moment of your time
Seldom the breeder of lies
But you won't believe that it's true
They take to the skySouthbound PachydermPinholes through cardboard
At the Sun
Passing the bucks by one by one
Leaving nothing in returnWatching the majest blow past
Speculating which will be the last
Savoring my piece of pie
And there is no reprise
They're filling the sky
Southbound Pachyderm
