Home (Paul van Dyk Radio Mix)

Paul van Dyk

The people poured their concrete floors
And built their churches and their walls
They painted pictures of their hopes and fears on themA single look, a tiny touch can change the system, it's enough
And I can see it all in you loveAnd your eyes explode with light, explode with light
I'm covered in your lightMy home is where you are
In every beat, in every beat we're closer
My home is where you are
In every beat, in every beat we're closer
They fashioned streets out of the rock
And struck up statues to their gods
And hung out flags on every corner they madeWe are charged, spoiling to go
You bring me back back to where I'm from
A billion molecules all lined upAnd our hearts are pulsing with life
Pulsing with life
We're pulsing with life
My home is where you are
In every beat, in every beat we're closer
My home is where you are
In every beat, in every beat we're closer

Lyrics provided by http://www.1songlyrics.com/