Reckless Love

Bleachers

I could use a bad disguise to guard me on the darkest nights I keep finding my way to the harshest words I got a strange, strange vision of a reckless loveWhoa, standing in world of my own they call it reckless love, whoa, whoaSo give me a chance to remember what I've given up to defend ya I would burn my dreams away just to stand in the thankless shadows of your reckless love Whoa, standing in a world of my own they call it reckless love, whoa, whoaGet out, stand back if you don't let go, you're gonna break me, and you get out, stand back
get out, stand back,
get out, stand back
if you don't let go, you're gonna break meWhoa, whoa, whoa, whoa So give me a chance to remember what I've given up to defend ya that I burned my dreams away to stand in the broken shadows
your thankless love your restless love a thankless love your reckless love's a thankless love
