Twenty One

Khalid

You just turned 21 So lately you been drinking Wasted on alcoholYou chase to fight the feeling Thinking about letting go Would that be easy for you then, then So lay with me, lay with me We're underneath the bleachers Stay or leave, stay or leave I hope you'll never leave And all of these memories Crawling underneath your skin, skin'Cause you're in pain But who's to blame? All our lives It never ends Yeah, alright You gotta hold on tight Yeah, alright AlrightDon't believe everything The shaky life gives you anxiety But finally I see you smiling When you say you need privacy You're only hiding from yourself You say I'm fine coming home I see the sun come up and shut the blinds episodes I know I never take my own advice When I'm wrong But I can't do it by myself, no'Cause you're in pain But who's to blame? All our lives, it never ends Yeah, alright (alright) You gotta hold on tight Yeah, alright You gotta hold on tight'Cause I'm in pain But I'm to blame To end this fire I have to changeYeah, alright You gotta hold on tight Yeah, alright Hold on tight Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by http://www.1songlyrics.com/