

Room for Happiness (feat. Skylar Grey)

Kaskade

Sometimes I wish I never felt
The influence of you
'Cause now I feel the disconnect
Like an open wound Where you once were, there is a space
That runs as deep as hell
But every morning when I wake
I tell myself Don't be fooled by your emptiness
There's so much more room for happiness, yeah
Don't be fooled by your emptiness
There's so much more room for happiness Yeah, yeah, yeah Sometimes it's worse to have lost
Than to have never had at all
'Cause it's a curse to feel love
And to feel it all dissolve Where you once were, there is a space
That runs as deep as hell
But every morning when I wake
I tell myself
Don't be fooled by your emptiness
There's so much more room for happiness, yeah
Don't be fooled by your emptiness
There's so much more room for happiness
Yeah, yeah, yeah
Don't be fooled by your emptiness
There's so much more room for happiness, yeah
Don't be fooled by your emptiness
There's so much more room for happiness, yeah
Yeah, yeah
