

Illuminate

Born of Osiris

Stand back and illuminate
Your presence begins to shape
History is bound to change
Stand back and illuminate In this wreck I'll start to form
A new reason to believe again
Its hard to see the misery and doubt you breathe
I never thought I would see the end
Of your existence Another dream that was broken from the distance
You build resistance now I'm indifferent
Now I believe in nothing from you A fate to face the world in secret
You never thought you could love again
After a while the dream was dead
A way to connect is all you needed
I'm ready to know ready to see
I keep on searching what connects with me
The sensation of dissociation
Give me something to bring me peace
We're all searching for integrity
Another face a human counterpart
Behind a mask to deceive us
You're holding on and you know its all a lie
Time to leave it all behind

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>