Louis The Child & Drew Love

She said she blamed me for running in and taking her heart away
I said I blamed her for making me believe her lies
Don't understand how you could wake up one day and just walk away You didn't even try to call to apologize And we're building up these walls
Just to watch them fall
You don't care at all
You don't care at all
(At all) And I don't know what to say
Maybe I'm too late
You were my everything
Till I lost it all
At least you're free
At least you're free
At least you're free
At least you're free She said she blamed me for running in and Taking her heart away (Heart away, heart away)
I say I blame her for making me believe her lies (Hm)
Don't understand how you go wake up one day and just walk away (Walk away)
You didn't even try to call to apologize And we're building up these walls
Just to watch them fall
You don't care at all
You don't care at all
(You don't care at all)
At least you're free
At least you're free
At least you're free
At least you're free
At least you're free
At least you're free
At least you're free
At least you're free
At least you're free At least you're free
