

First Time

Ghost Beach

Today I lost myself
I closed my eyes, I was someone else
Nothing was the sameI lay my burden down
I felt my feet on solid ground
I turned my world aroundI need you for the first time
'Cause I'm haunted by the thoughts in my mind
You're the only thing that feels right
So take me tonight for the first time
Some of my darkest days
Were spent on blood and nothing seemed to change
I've only myself to blameBut some of my hearts are spades
And some of my pain won't go away
But I'm learning how to walk awayBaby, I have so much hell in my heart
But I'm getting over
Honey, come back around and let's start againI need you for the first time
'Cause I'm haunted by the thoughts in my mind
You're the only thing that feels right
So take me tonight for the first time
I need you for the first time
'Cause I'm haunted by the thoughts in my mind
You're the only thing that feels right
So take me tonight for the first time
