

Thunder Underground

Ozzy Osbourne

Your thoughts are compromising
Self-centered, patronizing
Your image supersedes your soul You find me mystifying
So human, so annoying
You can't have me under control You think you'll live forever
You don't find that profound
You won't think you're so clever
When you hear thunder underground
All right now Your morbid fear of losing
Destroys the lives you're using
You only have one point of view
The stigma of delusion
Confirms your self illusion
And after all this could be you You think you'll live forever
You don't find that profound
You won't think you're so clever
When you hear thunder underground
Here we go now Could it be that I have found my mind, or have I gone insane?
Roller coaster of the madness and there's only me to blame
The ever faithful hand of doom will take the pain away
I'll never know the answer to it all 'til my dying day Your bullshit culture licking
Can't stop the deathwatch ticking
You're only mortal after all
Your appetite for power
Subverts your every hour
But every time the mighty fall
You think you'll live forever
You don't find that profound
You won't think you're so clever
When you hear thunder underground
Here we go now
