Jimmy Martin

Nitty Gritty Dirt Band

Well, they call me Jimmy Martin And they say that I can sing Of them lonesome broken-hearted Boys of Bluegrass, I'm the kingI was born up in the mountains I was raised in poverty Made a guitar out of nothing But a cigar box and stringsTook a bus across to Nashville And that's where I was employed Picking guitar and singing tenor With Bill Monroe and his Bluegrass Boys Yeah, they call me Jimmy Martin And they say that I can sing Of them lonesome broken-hearted Boys of Bluegrass, I'm the kingBack in 1959 With the Sunny Mountain Boys On that Louisiana Hayride You never heard such a wondrous noiseWe tore it up at the Grand Ole Opry

Walkin' Shoes and Free Born Man

But the circle is still broken

My greatest dream slipped through my hands

Well, they call me Jimmy Martin And they say that I can sing

Of them lonesome broken-hearted

Boys of Bluegrass, I'm the kingOf them lonesome broken-hearted

Boys of Bluegrass, I'm the king

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by http://www.1songlyrics.com/