

Grave Digger

Rancid

Grave digger, digging all the way down
Grave digger, digging all the way down
Grave digger, digging all the way down
Digging all way down to the underground
Digging all way down to the underground Well you're born into money with your legacy out
You move through the darkness with no sense of sound
When your body feels alive when you sleep under the soul
You wake up your heart aches your black in your hole Grave digger, digging all the way down
Grave digger, digging all the way down
Grave digger, digging all the way down
Digging all way down to the underground
Digging all way down to the underground
Well you prey on the weak who are trying to survive
You jump on the backbone that's keeping you alive
Well you're the master of your destiny, the [?] blitz of light
[?] in your veins and malice in your eyes Grave digger, digging all the way down
Grave digger, digging all the way down
Grave digger, digging all the way down
Digging all way down to the underground
Digging all way down to the underground You prey on the weak who try to survive Grave digger, digging all the way down
Grave digger, digging all the way down
Grave digger, digging all the way down
Grave digger, digging all the way down
Grave digger, digging all the way down
Grave digger, digging all the way down
Grave digger, digging all the way down
Digging all way down to the underground
