Childish Gambino

Let me tell you something true I remember, uh, back when I was six years old, uh Daddy said,

The world's so cold
There is something that you should know
You're so gorgeous, thanks, daddy
Nothing's really worth your time
But someday soon you just might find
The truth about the world's design, oh To be beautiful is to be hunted
I can't change the truth, I can't get you used to this
No, no, no, no, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah
To be beautiful is to be hunted
I can't change the truth, I can't get you used to this
And I know that, yeah
Now remember, uh
You do what the hell you want, uh
But someone's gonna sell your funk
You're exactly what they want (Truth)
To be happy really means that someone else ain't
And balance ain't the one who claim
Everything is give and take, oh, oh To be beautiful is to be hunted
I can't change the truth, I can't get you used to this
Oh, oh, yeah, oh yeah
To be beautiful is to be hunted
I can't change the truth, I can't get you used to this
And I know Don't do it like this, okay (Woo)
Jump ship (Yeah, oh no)
Do a ditty now (Nah-nah-nah-nah)
Ayy, ayy, uh (Ooh)
To be beautiful is to be hunted
I can't change the truth, I can't get you used to this
Can't get you used to this
No, no, no, no
To be beautiful is to be hunted (I can't, I know)
I can't change the truth (I said), I can't get you used to this Ooh, give it to me now, bring the strings back, uh To be beautiful is to be hunted
We are beautiful, yeah
Stay so beautiful
That's so beautiful
