

Fallen King

Eden's Curse

The night is ending, another hunt has just begun
The day is dawning and I'm still on the run
I've walked a million miles this year, I've suffered for my pain
I'm prayin' now on tired knees God give me strength again
I rise up, my eyes are open and still I wonder why
The hear is worn, my feelings frozen, I've lost the will inside
Woah-oh-oh-oh, won't the spirit set me free
Yeah, yeah!
I'm lost and I can't find, any reason to be walkin' the borderline
I'm lost in a cold dark life, so won't you hail the fallen king
I'm lost and I can't find, any reason to be takin' the hardline
I'm lost in a cold dark life, so won't you hail the fallen king
Time's up, they're in the open, I'm on the move again
It's not life, a monarchy stolen, who sits where I once reigned
