

Never Again, Again

Lee Ann Womack

Never again, again
Once more I'll let you back in
I know how the story ends
But I can't help myself You'll break my heart I know
Through my tears I'll watch you go
Then just like it's always been
I'll say never again, again Each time you leave
I say I've had enough
But I must be addicted
To your kind of love
I swear to myself
I'm gonna stand my ground
But one look at you
Breaks my defenses down And here comes never again, again
Once more I'll let you back in
I know how the story ends
But I can't help myself You'll break my heart I know
Through my tears I'll watch you go
Then just like it's always been
I'll say never again, again I swear to myself
I'm gonna stand my ground
But one look at you
Breaks my defenses down
And here comes never again, again
Once more I'll let you back in
And just like it's always been
I'll say never again, again And just like it's always been
I'll say never again, again
