

We Need You Right Now

Kirk Whalum

Like an earthquake brought us to the floor we shattered pieces on the ground I wanna find what we have before the walls came crashing down picking up, moving on, waking up alone seeking this every second looking that my fault thinking back what we had whether we blow on now you got me screaming out
I need you right now
I can't wait for your love lost beyond the circle of our hearts
I know
I need you right now
I can't wait for your love
ohhh a million miles separate our hearts, I know but I need you right now ohhhh
but I need you right now
Like
a million miles separate our hearts
I know
