

Trusty and True

Damien Rice

We've wanted to be
Trusty and true
But feathers fell from our wings And we've wanted to be
Worthy of you
But weather rained on our dreams And we can't take back what is done, what is past
So fellers, lay down your fears
'Cause we can't take back what is done, what is past
So let us start from here We never wanted to be
Lusty or lude
Nor tethered to prudish strings
We never wanted to be
Jealously tuned
Nor withered into ugly things But we can't take back what is done, what is past
So fellers, lay down your spears
'Cause we can't take back what is done, what is past
So let us start from here And if all that you are is not all you desire, then come
Come, come alone
Come with fears, come with love
Come however you are Just come, come alone
Come with friends, come with faults
Come however you are Just come, come alone
Come with me, and let go
Come however you are
Just come, come alone
Come so carefully close
Come however you are
Just come Come, come alone
Come with sorrows and songs
Come however you are Just come, come alone
Come with yourself
Come however you are
