

One Love

Andy Gibb

(written by Barry/Andy Gibb)

This time, I'm coming home

I gotta say I'm sorry

She was my one mistake

The last one I'll ever make

I broke you down

I told you lies

And in my way I made you love me

And through it all, there's gotta be

We go through those changes with

One love is better than many

Who cares what magic dream

there might have been

I'm lonely for one love

I live without any

Your love, the dream,

make it realThis time, I'm someone else

I'm not the one who hurt you

You are my destiny

The love light inside of me

And who am I, if not for you

An empty soul with no tomorrow

Smiling eyes or starless skies

We go through those changes with

One love is better than many

Who cares what magic dream

there might have been

I'm lonely for one love

I live without any

Your love, the dream,

make it realJust give me

One love is better than many(fade out)
