Kocaine Karolina

Elle King

Kocain Karolina down to your bones fireworks in your heart make it far from home every morning you wake up alone just the same who would wanna live longer anyway 000000 Easy days will come When you rest your heavy soul 000000 Easy days will come When your hard living is done poke your skinny spirit to keep a man whats left of your flesh slipped from his hand lonely looking eyes have done you wrong dont waste a way until your gone 000000 Easy days will come when you rest your heavy soul 000000 Easy days will come When your hard living is done 000000 Easy days will come when you rest your heavy soul 000000 Easy days will come when your hard living is done Kocaine Karoline your down to your bones dont waste away until your gone don't waste away until your gone
