Blasphemy

Bring Me The Horizon

You've got hell to pay but you already sold your soulIt's blasphemy
But the words don't make sense no more

What would your mother say? Your faith has you immuredSo don't try and tell me that you still believeNo don't preach to meAsk no questions and you'll get no lies

Turn the cheek and blind the eye

Let it goBend the knee and give away your life

Bite your tongue and close your mind

Never knowCause you've got hell to pay but you already sold your soulIt's blasphemy

But the words don't make sense no more

What would your mother say? Your faith has you immured

So don't try and tell me that you still believeNo don't preach to meYou're not blessed you're cursedAnd it's getting worse nowIt makes no sense but it must right

The blood and sweat you sacrificed

Was it all for nothing? Cause you found no sign and see no light

We hear no voice when we pray at night

But we swore and now it's too late to turn backYou're not blessed you're cursedAnd it's getting worse nowCause you've got hell to pay but you already sold your soulIt's blasphemy

But the words don't make sense no more

What would your mother say? Your faith has you immuredSo don't try and tell me that you still believe

No don't preach to meNo don't preach to meDon't preach to meNo don't preach to meIt's blasphemy

Lyrics provided by http://www.1songlyrics.com/