

Progress (feat. Tracyanne Campbell)

Public Service Broadcasting

Continually experimenting with new ideas and techniques
Reconstructing
Developing
Modernising I believe, I believe
In progress, in progress Machines will do the heavy work
Men will supervise the machines
You owe much to these machines
Horsepower, not manpower
Brains, not brawn
I believe in progress I believe, I believe
In progress, in progress
I believe, I believe
In progress, in progress These men look the same as they have always looked They talk as they have always talked
But before your eyes they are changing I believe in progress
I believe, I believe
In progress, in progress
I believe, I believe
In progress, in progress
I believe, I believe
In progress, in progress I believe in progress
