

Way Too Long

Keith Urban

The words are getting hard to find
Like friends on Valentine's
The puzzle pieces got lost in time and left behind but fought a real good fight
But there's something about you babe Though I try to open up
It's no use, I'm frozen in this state
Being great at pushing everyone I love, I love away And it's just a little
Too late to change
I got a heart that's been beating
This way for way too long
I can't stop singing
In and out of key
I got a heart that's been bleeding
This way for way too long
For way too long
Despite the look that's in your eyes
I know how hard you try
To break my stubbornness
Do your best to pull me out
But I'm buried in this mess
I see you're disheartened and I really want to give you more than just parts of what I can Wish you could call the last one so you understand That it's just a little
Too late to change
I got a heart that's been beating
This way for way too long
I can't stop singing
In and out of key
I got a heart that's been bleeding
This way for way too long
Baby I'm trying
Baby I'm trying
You know I've been trying for way too long
Baby I'm trying
Baby I'm trying
But it's just a little
Too late to change
I got a heart that's been beating
This way for way too long
I can't stop singing
In and out of key
I got a heart that's been bleeding
This way for way too long
For way too long

For way too long
For way too long
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>