

everything (feat. The-Dream & Kanye West)

Nas

[Pre-Chorus: Kanye West and The-Dream]

Your love and your heart

See 'cause you've never been the same as anyone else

Don't think the same as everyone else

Your love and your heart

See you'll never conclude with anyone else

Don't think the same as everyone else [Chorus: Kanye West]

If I had everything, everything

I could change anything

If I changed anything, I mean anything

I would change everything, oh yeah

[Post-Chorus: The-Dream & Kanye West]

Dark boy, don't you cry

There's too much life left in those eyes

Don't you let that face go waterfall

Until they learn to love you, scars and all

Dark boy, don't you die

They're just human, let them lie

You just know your world and speak your truth

Let them come to you

For your love and your heart

See 'cause you've never been the same as anyone else

Don't think the same as everyone else

This is your call, there are no wrongs

See you'll never conclude with anyone else

Don't think the same as everyone else

[Chorus: Kanye West]

If I had everything, everything

I could change anything, I could change anything

If I changed anything, I mean anything

I would change everything, oh yeah [Verse 1: Nas]

When the media slings mud, we use it to build huts

Irrefutable facts, merciful, beautiful black

Beloved brother, you fail to embarrass him, harassin' him

To my life, your life pales in comparison

So go write whatever blog, messiness is not ever the god

Do what's necessary, I'm never worried

Listen vultures, I've been shackled by Western culture

You convinced most of my people to live off emotion

That's why we competitin'

Death by the chrome barrel, forgot the secrets

My killer be Gerald, bone marrow's the deepest

You can peep at the comments, but don't fall for that
 We want freedom, I'm a scholar and almanac
 People do anything to be involved in everything
 Inclusion is a hell of a drug
 Some people have everything they probably ever wanted in life
 And never have enough[Chorus: Kanye West]
 If I had everything, everything
 I could change anything
 If I changed anything, I mean anything
 I would change everything, oh yeah[Verse 2: Nas]
 From the birth of a child, the world is foul
 Excursions of a certain child
 Should learn not to take nothin' personal
 A parent hates to watch his baby's face
 Takin' his first immunization shots, but this is great
 The child's introduction to suffering and pain
 Understands without words
 Nothin' is explained or rushed to the brain
 Lookin' up at his parents' face
 Like, "I thought you would protect me from this scary place?"
 "Why'd you let them inject me?"
 "Who's gonna know how these side effects is gonna affect me?"
 Who knew I would grow to meet presidents that respect me?
 If Starbucks is bought by Nestlé, please don't arrest me
 I need to use your restroom and I ain't buy no espresso
 Soon enough, assume the cuffs, the position
 Not new to us, since back on the bus sittin'
 Said "Screw the bus!", boycotted that bus outta business
 The future's us, yeah there be citizens in prison[Chorus: Kanye West]
 If I had everything, everything
 I could change anything
 If I changed anything, I mean anything
 I would change everything, oh yeah[Verse 3: Nas]
 Watch me as I walk through the folly, golly, New York to Saudi
 In Italy, I'm Eduardo Wiccari
 But Nasty the hustler, nasty like mustard gas, sulfur
 And I could sell Alaska to Russia, no pressure
 My first house, 11.000-square-foot mansion
 It was a haunted by dead bitch whites
 Mad a nigga bought his crib, to hang up pictures of black Christ
 Circular driveways, black cars and black ice
 My second house, still in my twenties, illin' with money
 Chilled through my spine, spillin' wine, it's funny
 Did good for a staircase loiterer, euphoria
 What you saw when you seen a teen turn to a warrior
 Did every Fourth of July, bustin' in the sky
 It was important to a guy who was mob-minded
 Future Murcielago driver, 'til Lambos got average on me
 I started likin' the look like I ain't had no money

Yellow taxi seats over Maybach seats
Just to remind me, just to inspire me
To stay focused, it's a real sick society
Just 'cause I got your support don't mean you're buyin' me
I'm buyin' back the land owned by the slave masters
Where my ancestors lived, just to say a rapper
Made a change; the pants-sagga put plans in action
Til they claim the Pan-African made it happen[Pre-Chorus: Kanye West and The-Dream]
Your love and your heart
See 'cause you've never been the same anyone else
Don't think the same as everyone else
Your love and your heart
See you'll never conclude with anyone else
Don't think the same as everyone else[Chorus: Kanye West]
If I had everything, everything
I could change anything
If I changed anything, I mean anything
I would change everything, oh yeah[Post-Chorus: The-Dream & Kanye West]
Dark boy, don't you cry, there's too much life left in those eyes
Don't you let that face go waterfall
Until they learn to love you, scars and all
Dark boy, don't you die
They're just human, let them lie
You just know your world and speak your truth
And let them come to you
For your love and your heart
See 'cause you've never been the same as anyone else
Don't think the same as everyone else
This is your call, there are no wrongs
See you'll never conclude with anyone else
Don't think the same as everyone else
