Love & Hate

Michael Kiwanuka

Standing now
calling all the people here to see the show calling from my dealers now to let me go i need something, give me something wonderfuli believe she wont take me somewhere i'm not supposed to be you can't steal the things that god has given me no more pain and no more shame and miseryyou can't take me down you can't break me down you can't take me downyou can't take me down
you can't break me down
you can't take me down
love and hate how much more are we supposes to tolerate can you see this world to me the longest day sometimes i get this feeling - makes me hesitatei believe she wont take me somewhere i'm not supposed to be
you can't steal the things that god has given me
no more pain and no more shame and miseryyou can't take me down
you can't break me down
you can't take me downyou can't break me down
you can't take me down
you can't break me downi can see that grace of glory And i'm on the way
for the note of everybody i did something wrong and now i feel some days of glory in the house of gold
for the note of everybody
with the heart of goldStanding now calling all the people here to see the show calling all my dealers now to let me go i need something to give me something wonderful Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by http://www.1songlyrics.com/