

Cinderella

Vince Gill

you say you're sorry
you still care
she came by my place again to cry about you man you should love her
twice as much
i try to remember you're a friend but its gettin a little rough(Chorus) she's just tired
of bein cinderella
she cant live that way no more needs a little affection
a little understanding
better be careful
cause the next time she comes through my door she wont be cinderella no more A tear drop trembles
on her face
where that smile always was it seemed out of place when i held her
like a friend
like a bitter sweet beginning i could taste the bitter end(Chorus) She just tired
of bein cinderella
she needs a little affection a little understanding you better be careful
cause the next time she comes through my door
you'll be sorry (Bridge)
cause it seems like its always something with you and everybody's always wrong one of these you'll reach for the pillow she sleeps on shes gonna be gone(Chorus)
shes just tired
of bein cinderella
she cant live
that way no more
she needs a little affection
a little understanding
you better be careful casue the next time she comes through my door

you'll be sorry
shes just tired
of bein cinderella
she cant live
that way no more
she needs a little affection
a little understanding
you better be careful casue the next time she comes through my door
you'll be sorry

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>