Chris Tomlin

Maybe I got just a little too much pride
To let you back into my life
You think I miss you, not yet, not yet
Baby, you thought about what you put me throughA sorry is long overdue
You want it again, I bet, I, I, I bet
So cry, cry baby, I already let you go
Bye bye, baby, I don't mess with you no mo'Nah, nah, baby, just because I'm moving on
Don't you 'member back in the day
When all you had to do was say yes
But you walked away
You made your bed, you know the rest
Now you want me to stay
Said you're right, but you went and leftYou think this is a game
You ain't gon' win cause I'm the ref
D-E-R, all because of your ego
You thought that you was irreplaceableYeah, there's a couple things that you can't erase
You'll learn your place from your mistakes
So cry, cry baby, I already let you go
Bye bye, baby, I don't mess with you no mo'Nah, nah, baby, just because I'm moving on
Don't you 'member back in the day
When all you had to do was say yes
But you walked away
You made your bed, you know the rest
Now you want me to stay
Said you're right, but you went and left
You think this is a game
You ain't gon' win cause I'm the ref
I bet you're thinking that I will take you back
Just like I did the last time, ain't having that I won't be taking you back, matter of fact
You messed up the winning game
Ref, play it backDon't you 'member back in the day
When all you had to do was say yes
But you walked away
You made your bed, you know the rest
Now you want me to stay
Said you're right, but you went and left
You think this is a game
You ain't gon' win cause I'm the ref
Play it back
Won't you play it back?
Ref, play it back
