

Half Light I

Arcade Fire

You told us that
We were too young
Now that night's closing in
And in the half light
We run
Lock us up safe
And hide the key
But the night tears us loose
And in the half light
We're free
Strange how the half light
Can make a place new
You can't recognize me
And I can't recognize youWe run through the streets
That we know so well
And the houses hide so much
We're in the half light
None of us can tell
They hide the ocean in a shellThe ocean in a shellOur heads are just houses
Without enough windows
They say you hear human voices
But they only echo
They only echo
They only echo
Only echo(We are not listening, we are on the streets)
(We are not listening, we are on the streets)
