Ferrari

Bebe Rexha

Every day is a blur Sometimes I can't tell what day it is Don't know what day it is Can you tell me what day it is? Life's passing by 'Cause I'm out chasing empty highs Every hello just means goodbye But I'm looking for more this time[Pre-Chorus] Can we start to slow it down? Can we learn to live right now? I just want to feel it all [Chorus] I'm a Ferrari pulled off on Mulholland Drive Over the city, the lights are so pretty from up here I'm a Ferrari and after the party is done I keep on going, missing the moments Living in the fast lane is getting kind of lonely (yeah) Woah, woah, woah Living in the fast lane is getting kind of lonely Woah, woah, woah Living in the fast lane is getting kind of lonely[Verse 2] Got a heavy heart 'Cause it's still beating on its own Might be going out in the ground But I'm still coming home alone Not trying to say I'm not grateful for everything I'm just going too fast to see All the good things in front of me [Chorus] I'm a Ferrari pulled off on Mulholland Drive Over the city, the lights are so pretty from up here I'm a Ferrari and after the party is done I keep on going, missing the moments Living in the fast lane is getting kind of lonely (yeah) Woah, woah, woah Living in the fast lane is getting kind of lonely Woah, woah, woah Living in the fast lane is getting kind of lonely[Outro] I'm a Ferrari pulled off on Mulholland Drive Over the city, the lights are so pretty from up here I'm a Ferrari and after the party is done I keep on going, missing the moments
