Nocturnal (feat. The Weeknd)

Disclosure

Street lights, turn on one by one
My hope is, descending like the sun
Try to tell myself there's freedom in the loneliness (Oh baby)

Always restless, story of my life

Disconnected, body clock's not right

Try to tell myself that I'mma get some sleep tonightFound myself where I started, this isn't where I want to be

The time that I find hardest, always comes eventually My shadow doesn't show in the dark

The night time is inclined to my heart

The emptiness I felt from the start

Will follow me 'till I fall apart

Nocturnal, nocturnal, nocturnalMy demons are blocking out the light
And my mind is about to lose the fight

Why can't I find peace, when a caracal could sleep tonight? (Yeah)

Your absence isn't something that I choose (choose, choose choose)

The truth is you were never mine to lose (lose, lose, lose)

Said that I feel lifeless, tryna get away from you (Oh baby, oh)Found myself where I started, this isn't where I want to be

The time that I find hardest, always comes eventually My shadow doesn't show in the dark

The night time is inclined to my heart

The emptiness I felt from the start

Will follow me 'till I fall apartNocturnal, nocturnal, nocturnal

Nocturnal, nocturnal, nocturnal

Nocturnal, nocturnal, nocturnal

Nocturnal, nocturnal, nocturnal (Oh yeah)

My shadow doesn't show in the dark

The night time is inclined to my heart

The emptiness I felt from the start

Will follow me 'till I fall apartNocturnal, nocturnal, nocturnal, nocturnal

Nocturnal, nocturnal, nocturnal

Nocturnal, nocturnal, nocturnal

Nocturnal, nocturnal, nocturnal

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by http://www.1songlyrics.com/