

Love Is Looking for You

Miranda Lambert

Maybe you're just jaded
From some nobody's unforgotten words
Maybe you're just faded
A little gray from every time that you've been hurt
So you're lookin' for your skin
That you never did fit in
You can't hide when you're turned inside out
Love is looking for you now
Maybe you been burnin'
But you can't blow out a flame that you can't find
Maybe you've been thirsty
But the rain just ain't enough when you're this dry
So you're runnin' from the water
And the fire's getting hotter
I think you better find some lever ground
Love is lookin' for you now
Love is lookin' for you now
Maybe you been wearing
The shoes that someone else is wearing now
Maybe you've been swearing
Forever might have already run out
You can't love yourself
At the expense of someone else
You can't hide a liar from the truth
Love is lookin' for you
Love is lookin' for you
I've been looking for you
Baby, I've been lookin'
I've been looking for you
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>