

To Be Young, Gifted and Black

Donny Hathaway

Young, Gifted and Black
To be young, gifted and black oh what a lovely precious dream.
To be young, gifted and black open up your heart to what I mean
'Cause you know in this whole wide world
There's a million, A MILLION boys and girls Who are young, gifted and black and that's a fact!

II

To be young, gifted and black
We must begin to tell our young
Don't you know there's a whole world waiting for you?
Don't you know the quest has just begun for you?
Haven't you heard that the joy-
-the joy!
-the joy of the day is that one day that we all be proud to say That we were young, gifted and black and it's sho' 'nuff where it's at!
