

The Great Unknown

Rob Thomas

People are talking what you can not know
And what you wanted wasn't me at all
So many people never cross that road
Staring out the window of a combat zoneSo just hold on
Driving through the valley of a great unknown
Open up the headlight
Shine on
Everyone around you has a heart of stone
But you just roll on
Just roll on
People are talkin' but you can't be sure
So many whispers at your own front door
And when you open up you lose that hope
Now you start to wonder if you're all aloneSo just hold on
Driving through the valley of a great unknown
Open up the headlight
Shine on
Everyone around you has a heart of stone
But you just roll onRemember walking when you thought you couldn't stand
Remember what it feels like
I know you think that they could never understand
Oh but you don't wanna be right
And now you only wanna make it out alive
So just hold on
Driving through the valley of a great unknown
Open up the headlight
Shine on
Everyone around you has a heart of stone
But you just roll on
Just roll on
...
Just roll on
...
Just roll on

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>