

Tear It Down

Spoon

You were out walking the park
I was at the owl cafe
When the sirens rang
And now we're never gonna meet
But I feel you anyway
I was trying to get out of town
You passed in an ambulance
We was in a trance
And now we're never gonna meet
But I feel you anyway
Yeah, I feel you todayLet them build a wall around us
I don't care I'm gonna tear it down
It's just bricks and ill intentions
They don't stand a chance
I'll tear it down
Signals you send
Secrets you would never tell
People you've been
People you bend to your will
Darkness comes on
And lingers past the dawn
Tension it lends
Tension, tension, tension(waiting), waitingLet them build a wall around us
I don't care I'm gonna tear it down
It's just bricks and ill intentions
They don't stand a chance
I'll tear it down
Tear it on downI'll tear it down
I'll tear it down
You were just getting off work
I was down at the city stacks
When the sky went black
And now we're never gonna meet
But I feel you anyway
Yeah, I feel you todayLet them build a wall
I don't care I'm gonna tear it down
It's just bricks and ill intentions
They don't stand a chance
I'll tear it down
Tear it on down
