Lonely Call

RaeLynn

Just a Monday, thrift shop couch
Bowl of Cheerios, it's getting dark out
Clicking my remote to an episode
Of Crazy Housewives
And before you know
I see your face on my screen
That ringtone can only mean
Your friends are gone
You're all alone
And you're thinkin' 'bout me
I used to be your "6 a.m
Hey good morning
Beautiful, how you been?"
I used to be a "we just landed
Miss you, you can't stand it
See you this weekend"
Now I'm just a midnight number
Familiar voice
When you start to wonder if you made the wrong choice
So let it ring, let it ring all night long'Cause I ain't your lonely callIt's been three weeks and two days
And twelve hours, but who's counting
Ten thousand tears, feels like a year
Looking for some peace, and I found it
'Cause boy you said, "Let's take a break"
In the front seat of your Jeep
So if you got more to say
Leave a message at the beepI used to be your "6 a.m
Hey good morning
Beautiful, how you been?"
I used to be a "we just landed
Miss you, you can't stand it
See you this weekend"
Now I'm just a midnight number
Familiar voice
When you start to wonder if you made the wrong choiceSo let it ring, let it ring all night long
'Cause I ain't your lonely call
I ain't your lonely call, call, ohLet it ring, let it ring, let it ring, girl
Let it ring, let it ring, let it ring, girlLet it ring, let it ring, let it ring, girl
Let it ring, let it ring, let it ring, girl
Let it ring, let it ring, let it ring, girl
Let it ringI used to be your "6 a.m

Hey good morning
Beautiful, how you been?"
I used to be a "we just landed
Miss you, you can't stand it
See you this weekend"
Now I'm just a midnight number
Familiar voice
When you start to wonder if you made the wrong choice
So let it ring, let it ring all night long
'Cause I ain't your lonely call
No, I ain't your lonely call
Yeah, yeah, yeah
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by http://www.1songlyrics.com/