

Love is All

The Tallest Man On Earth

Well I walk upon the river like it's easier than land Evil's in my pocket and your will is in my hand Oh your will is in my hand And I'll throw it in the current that I stand upon so still Love is all from what I've heard but my heart's learned to kill Oh mine has learned to kill Oh I said I could rise from the harness of our ghost
Here come the tears
but like always, I let them go
oh oh oh
Just let them go Now spikes will keep on falling from the heavens to the floor
The future was our skin and now we don't dream any more No we don't dream anymore
oh oh oh
Like a house that's made from spider webs and the clouds are rolling in You bet this mighty river's both my saviour and my sin Oh my savior and my sin Oh I said I could rise
from the harness of our ghost
Here come the tears
but like always, i let them go
oh oh oh
Just let them go Well I walk upon the river like it's easier than land Evil's in my pocket and your strength is in my hand your strength is in my hand And I've thrown you in the current that I stand upon so still Love is all from what I've heard but my heart's learned to kill
Oh mine has learned to kill Oh I said I could rise
from the harness of our ghost
Here come the tears
but like always, i let them go
oh oh oh
Just let them go
