

The Sage, the Fool, the Sinner

Halloween

A tramp found dead in the street
Just made the news
Forensics report read drug abuse
Found a warehouse slip in his sleeve
Marine corps major down-at-heel
And they got to the place, unlocked the shed
Left awestruck, stunned, amazed
Among stuff and things lay pledges and bonds
Up to a few Mil' in the end
The sage, the fool, the sinner
And what goes for you, one can't ever say
The sage, the fool, the sinner
One can't foretell fate, no way, no way
Sassy lady puts on her fav' heels
Mirror checked, all done, snow white appeal
Adjust the dress, ready to leave
Grab some cash, cab's outside, wipe off a tear
On her way out, she turns once more
To wave her man goodbye
While in his sleep, he recalls thirty years
Due to end that night
The sage, the fool, the sinner
And what goes for you, one can't ever say
The sage, the fool, the sinner
One can't foretell fate, no way, no way
The sage, the fool, the sinner
And what goes for you, one can't ever say
The sage, the fool, the sinner
One can't foretell fate, no way, no way

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>