

Chance (Intermission Version)

DC Talk

People watching, every life a mystery
Sunny faces, but you know the story's incomplete
Satisfaction, it seems a million miles away
So I'm moving to another state of mind
I'm believing, there's no better place or better time
And everyday we live, there's a chance to give
And every time we speak, there's a chance for peace
And everyday we live, there's a chance
Oh, little sister, put aside your fear and breathe
In the secret, do you hear the voice of Heaven saying
"Come together, hope is stronger than it seems?"
Where you're standing there's no running out on love
Only human, but you've set your eyes on the things above
And everyday we live, there's a chance to give
And every time we speak, there's a chance for peace
And everyday we live, there's a chance
And every time we speak, there's a chance
A chance for you, a chance for me
A chance to serve in a time of need
A chance to live, a chance to tell
A chance to lose yourself
(For somebody else)
And everyday we live, there's a chance to give
And every time we speak, there's a chance for peace
And everyday we live, there's a chance to live
And every time we speak, there's a chance for peace
And everyday we live, there's a chance

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>