

Hi Hello

Johnny Marr

When are you coming up?
Get away now and don't look back
I'm gonna pick you up
Hear what you say
And you're going so fast And I see you coming down that line
See the future for tomorrow's child
And I'll watch you when you're losing your mind
And you can't let go All the places, all the steps you climb
Were off the beaten track
When you fall and keep on climbing
You can never look back
So, hi hello
Whatever you need, and wherever you go
I can't say no
Warm heartbeat any place we run And I see you coming down that line
See the future for tomorrow's child
And I'll find you when the lights are blinding
And you can't get home It's never soon enough
And forever's gonna come too fast
Time is calling us
Gets in the way and fools the past
When there's nobody else around
On the train on the way from town
And you feel that you can't be found
And you can't let go
All the faces taking up your time
You say leave me alone
Its tomorrow, you're the future's child
And you know where to go So, hi hello
Whatever you need
And wherever you go
I can't say no
Walk our street any day you want And I see you coming down that line
On the street, all alone at night
And I'll find you if you're losing your mind
And you can't let go No, I won't let go
Hi hello
Hi hello
