

Ricochet

STARSET

And we were born
Over the world
We were flying through the satellites
We had a hold of the lightning strikes
When we should've been afraid of heights
And I was trying just to get you
And now I'm trying to forget you
Cause I knew I couldn't get you
So I light the sky
And I fell behind
We were one in the same
Running like moths to the flame
You hang on every word I say
But now they only ricochet
We were falling away
You left me with a bittersweet taste
The way I sent my heart your way
It bounces off the walls you made
Ricochet
Love was whole
I turn my head
I forget it and just walk away
Cause I've been told
That I'm dragging it on
And I've been dying just to see your face
And all I wanted was to say goodbye
To the fortress that you stood behind
And now the sun is now realigned
It left a hole
I built the wall
Oh, we were one in the same
Running like moths to the flame
You hang on every word I say
But now they only ricochet
You were falling away
You left me with a bittersweet taste
The way I sent my heart your way
It bounces off the walls you made
Ricochet All these broken souls
They never make me whole
They don't, they don't know my heart
They don't know my heart

All these broken souls
They're so beautiful
They don't, they don't know my heart
They don't know my heart
I send out my soul
Somewhere beautiful
They won't, they won't own my heart
It's the darkest part
We were one in the same
Running like moths to the flame
You hang on every word I say
But now they only ricochet
You were falling away
You left me with a bittersweet taste
The way I sent my heart your way
It bounces off the walls you made
Ricochet

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>