I See Stars

Sugar coated white lies
Can only get you so far before you get
Caught up in the middle and
I'm a human too
My life has value.
And everybody will think the same. Good morning, time to wake up.
Sugar coated white lies, in the middle
If this is a lie then what am I?
Now I'm standing on my rooftop I
Sure could use someone to talk to Someone to make it alright
'Cause I'm done pretending.
Sugar coated white lies
Can only get you so far before you get
Caught up in the middle and
I'm a human too
My life has value.
And everybody will think the same. I never thought that I would live to see
Everyone and me struggling to breathe
If this is a lie then what am I? When the power of love
Exceeds the love for power
The world will finally, finally know peace.
Sugar coated white lies
Can only get you so far
Sugar coated white lies
Can only get you so far before you get
Caught up in the middle and
I'm a human too
My life has value.
And everybody will think the same.
