Forever

Sevendust

I feel my life has been forsaken
And I've been taken by the storm for way too long
I sit here locked inside a hell that only you and I can live
Another war so far from grace so wipe that smile off your face
Stop coming at me, coming at meSo go now, find yourself, you're selfish, condescending
You and me are now forever, forever
So go play God in someone else's life
'Cause you and me are now forever, forever dead
I wear your burden like a stone
It drags me down, I'm sinking
I pray they're wrong but lie there alone so broken
Stop coming at me, coming at me, coming at meSo go now, find yourself, you're selfish, condescending
You and me are now forever, forever
So go play God in someone else's life
'Cause you and me are now forever, forever deadSo go now find yourself, you're selfish, condescending
You and me are now forever
So go now, find yourself, you're selfish, condescending
You and me are now forever, forever
So go play God in someone else's life
You and me are now forever, foreverForever dead, forever dead, forever
Forever dead, forever dead, forever
Forever dead, forever dead, forever
