

Flashed Junk Mind

Milky Chance

When we were young souls on the junk-yard
Now we are stunned minds full of junk-goods
But I feel your heartbeat just like mine
I feel your heartbeat all the time And we were bound to the citylife
Flashlights when we're falling into the night
Focused on what you feel
Just when you were calling her love that day And we were bound to the citylife
Flashlights when we're falling into the night
Focused on what you feel
Just when you were calling her love that day
When we were young souls on the junk-yard
Now we are stunned minds full of junk-goods
But I feel your heartbeat just like mine
I feel your heartbeat all the time And we were bound to the citylife
Flashlights when we're falling into the night
Focused on what you feel
Just when you were calling her love that day And we were bound to the citylife
Flashlights when we're falling into the night
Focused on what you feel
Just when you were calling her love that day And we were bound to the citylife
Flashlights when we're falling into the night
Focused on what you feel
Just when you were calling her love that day
And we were bound to the citylife
Flashlights when we're falling into the night
Focused on what you feel
Just when you were calling her love that day

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>