Monophobia (feat. Rob Swire)

deadmau5

Inside my head, there's a little place left for you What do you know? What do you know? And all I want is to find out what you're going through What do I know? Maybe this silence is dangerousInside my head, there's a little place left for you What do you know? What do you know? And feel what's inside you I wanna come over And see what you've found See if you're hurting After tearing me down It's the rain of denialIt's the way that you're faking All the tears in your eyes Feel like I'm in slow motion TonightAnd all I want is to find out what you're going through What do I know? Maybe this silence is dangerous I wanted to hide Now, I just wanna find you And feel what's inside you I wanna come over And see what you've found See if you're hurting After tearing me down It's the rain of denial.
