Growing Up (feat. Ed Sheeran)

Macklemore & Ryan Lewis

They say boys don't cry
But your dad has shed a lot of tears
They say I should be a strong man
But baby, I'm still filled with fear
Sometimes I don't know who I am
Sometimes I question why I'm here

Will I be? I have no ideaThey say girls shouldn't be tough

And moms should raise their kids at home

I just wanna be a good dad

But baby, I know that that isn't true

Cause your momma's the toughest person I knowI wanna raise you to be like her And watch you show the world how to do it on your own

I'm still tryna figure out who I am
I don't wanna mess this up or do this wrong
I'm gonna be there for your first breath
I don't know if I'll be there for your first step

I can promise you that I'll try to work less But the tour's routed, and I got this album

Put in so many hours, and I just want the outcomeTo be something that I can look back and I can be proud of

Don't wanna be a dad that's living in FaceTime

But I've got a world to sing to and you at the same timeI won't spoil you, you can trust that

For your sweet sixteen, you get a bus pass

Had your heart broken? Been there, done that

I love you and I can't give you enough of that

Get back to community that raised you up

Read Langston Hughes, I suggest "A Raisin in the Sun"

Listen to Sam Cooke, a change gon' come

You put the work in, don't worry about the praise, my love

Don't try to change the world, find something that you love

And do it every day

Do that for the rest of your life

And eventually, the world will change I'll be patient, one more month

You'll wrap your fingers round my thumb

Times are changing, I know

But who am I if I'm the person you become

If I'm still growing up, up, up, up

I'm still growing up, up, up, up

I'm still growing upI recommend that you read "The Alchemist"

Listen to your teachers, but cheat in calculus

Tell the truth, regardless of the consequence

And every day, give your momma a compliment Take your girl to the prom

But don't get too drunk hanging out the limo Slow dance with your woman in your arms Sneak her in after but boy, you better tiptoe

> Don't wake your mom up Do yoga, learn 'bout karma

Find God, but leave the dogmaThe quickest way to happiness? Learning to be selfless

Ask more questions, talk about yourself less

Study David Bowie, James Baldwin and 2Pac

Watch the sun set with best friends from a rooftopWear a helmet, don't be stupid Jaywalk, but look before you do it

If it snows, go outside, build a jump, get some help

Get a sled, thrash the hill with your friends, 'til it meltsGo to festivals, camp, fall in love and dance

You're only young once, my loved one, this is your chance

Take risks, cause life moves so fast

You're only young once, my loved one, this is your chanceI'll be patient, one more month

You'll wrap your fingers round my thumb

Times are changing, I know, but who am I if

I'm the person you become

If I'm still growing up, up, up, up

I'm still growing up, up, up, upI'll be patient, one more month

You'll wrap your fingers round my thumb

Times are changing, I know

But who am I if I'm the person you become

If I'm still growing up, still growing up, still growing up

If I'm still growing up, still growing up, still growing upI'm still growing up

I'm still growing up, ooh

I'm still growing up

I'm still growing up
