

Skating Away (On the Thin Ice of the New Day)

Jethro Tull

Mean while back in the year one
When you belonged to no one
You didn't stand a chance son
If your pants were undone 'Cause you were bread for humanity
And sold to society
One day you'll wake in the present days
A million generations removed from expectations of Being who you really want to be Skating away
Skating away
Skating away
On the thin ice of a new day
So as you push off from the shore
Won't you turn your head once more
And make your peace with ev'ryone
For those who choose to stay
Will live just one more day
To do the things they should have done And as you cross the wilderness
Aspinning in your emptiness you feel you have to pray
Looking for a sign that the universal mind
Has written you into the passion play Skating away
Skating away
Skating away
On the thin ice of a new day
And as you cross the circle line
Well the ice wall creaks behind
You're a rabbit on the run
And silver splinters fly
In the corner of your eye
Shining in the setting sun Well do you ever get the feeling
That the story's too damn real and in the present tense
Or that ev'rybody's on the stage
And it seems like you're the only person sitting in the audience Skating away
Skating away
Skating away
On the thin ice of a new day Skating away
Skating away
Skating away
