

One Nation

Sister Hazel

When you were born you didn't know
You thought we were the same
You know we walked the same, we talked the same
Although you never knew my name You were told when we were young
That I would not be the same
"You know he's not the same, he's not the same!"
And then you never asked my name But I say won't you have a lovely day
And then you come back telling me to go to Hell But it's, one nation indivisible
One nation indivisible, ohh ooh ohh
One nation indivisible, ohh my God it's irresistible
One nation indivisible, ohh ooh ohh
Well a baby is a baby
A man he is a man
And you know he tries the same and he cries the same
And then you know he dies the same But when I ask in disbelief
They say, "Just because!"
You know I have to state, we learn to hate
And man you know I can't relate! But I say won't you have a lovely day
And then you come back telling me to go to Hell But it's, one nation indivisible
One nation indivisible, ohh ooh ohh
One nation indivisible, ohh my God it is irresistible
One nation indivisible One nation indivisible
One nation indivisible, ohh ooh ohh
Ohh ohh one nation indivisible, my God it is irresistible
One nation indivisible ohh ooh ohh
One nation indivisible
One nation indivisible, ohh ooh ohh
Ohh no no no no
One nation indivisible, ohh my God it is irresistible
One nation indivisible, ohh ooh ohh
