

Come Back Home

Lauv

Doubt, doubt, doubt
It kills everything that you love
Now, now, now
I'm losing myself on the run And I flew to California
Thought I could leave
Every piece of you right here
Yeah I flew to California
Still wide awake
Oh the sun burned it on clear How I still love you
I still love you
But sometimes you have to go
Trade your heart for bones
To know you need to come back home
Come back home
Paint-chipped skies
Nothing is ever as it seems
Behind these codeine eyes
Blind to the world in between And I flew to California
Thought I could leave
Every piece of you right here
Yeah I flew to California
Still wide awake
Oh the sun burned it on clear How I still love you
I still love you
But sometimes you have to go
Trade your heart for bones
To know you need to come back home
Come back home
Getaway
I always thought I needed a getaway.
Getaway
I always thought I needed a getaway.
Getaway
I always thought I needed a getaway.
Getaway
I always thought I needed a getaway. But I still love you
I still love you
But sometimes you have to go
Trade your heart for bones
To know you need to come back home
Come back home Getaway
I always thought I needed a getaway.

Getaway

I always thought I needed a getaway.

Getaway

I always thought I needed a getaway.

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>