

Ego

Macklemore

Ladies and gentlemen
Second Thoughts on the beat
Big up to Lace Cadence
Good lookin' out for this one, man I love hip hop music
I just hate the ego
The politics that follow it
Getting caught in it can be lethal
See I love the community
'Cause a community will embrace you
But you turn it back the community is the people that will hate you
See everybody's striving for that same shit
To get paid and make it
And I'll be honest, I'm trying to become famous
When someone makes a move
Watch that person next to you
Cause I'll warn ya
I love Hova but jealousy's The Takeover
Here come the mean mugs
"I can't do what he does"
And where does that lead us?
To the ego that feeds us
I wish that I could just do what I do
But when a door opens for him I'm afraid there won't be enough room
Comparison's a mother fucker
Like MLK said,
"We all want that band leader syndrome and it won't stop"
This concept makes me wonder
Is it the commodity of the music or the ego that is killing hip hop?
It's the ego
That makes me not give respect in death
It's the ego
That makes me talk shit behind people's back
You know that it's the ego
That's constantly polluting my consciousness
So ingrained in my brain that I can barely even acknowledge it
It's the ego
That makes the present moment jet lagged
I said it's the ego
That has me trippin about the next man
You know that it's the ego
That makes me not go to the front
Of the show 'cause the performers have exactly what I want

I'm so cool
 F'real?
 No dude, I'm serious spit it different and if you just flow too
 I'll listen lookin for glitches and rip 'em to shove improve
 That my rhythm's a little bit more intricate, just to boost
 My ego
 Is so evil
 Threatened by so many different kinds of people
 It seems that if you're goin' through somethin' and life is feelin' uncomfortable
 The immediate place you go is to your ego to comfort you
 When Boom Bap got signed
 I hated on him
 When Grayskul got signed
 I hated on him
 And that's hard to admit
 But since I'm really bein' honest
 I wanted to be one of the first to make it as a Northwest rap artist
 Instead of takin it as a plus for my region
 I took it as a cut to my dreams of makin' it out of this political scene of Northwest haters
 To be next I guess I'm just like them
 Jealous of who's taking that step It's the ego
 That makes me not give respect in death
 It's the ego
 That makes me talk shit behind people's back
 You know that it's the ego
 That's constantly polluting my consciousness
 So ingrained in my brain that I can barely even acknowledge it
 It's the ego
 That makes the present moment jet lagged
 I said it's the ego
 That has me trippin about the next man
 You know that it's the ego
 That makes me not go to the front
 Of the show 'cause the performers have exactly what I want Now everybody got one but people tryin' to front
 Claimin that they on the humble but cocky
 Now it comes up when we judge
 Or are threatened by someone
 But everyone still be like 'man that's not me'
 Now let me break it down son
 It's only a lack of love for ourselves
 Cause we're submerged in 'I gotta be'
 The best or number one
 But it's just that we don't trust
 In our heart and that's what stops me
 It's the ego
